Appeal Regarding Examination Access for African International Students

Dear Sir/Madam,

I hope this message finds you well.

I am writing to respectfully appeal to the university regarding an issue currently affecting African international students at PP. Savani University, particularly in relation to examination access.

As outlined in the admission letters issued to African international students, students clearly understood their financial responsibilities and have made genuine efforts to comply with all required obligations, especially those related to hostel and associated fees. Many students have consistently acted in good faith and in accordance with the information communicated to them at the time of admission.

However, it has come to our attention that students admitted in 2022 and subsequent years are experiencing challenges that have resulted in some of them being restricted from writing their examinations. This situation has caused considerable academic disruption and emotional distress among the affected students, despite their efforts to meet the requirements communicated to them.

We humbly request the university's kind intervention to:

1. Review the circumstances surrounding the affected African international students, particularly those from the 2022 intake.
2. Consider the impact of examination restrictions on students' academic progress and wellbeing.
3. Ensure that students are given a fair opportunity to sit for their examinations while any concerns are being reviewed

We sincerely appreciate the university's continued commitment to supporting international students and remain confident that this matter can be resolved amicably and fairly, in the best interest of both the students and the institution.

Thank you very much for your time, understanding, and consideration. We look forward to your guidance and a positive resolution.
